

Publication

Archaeology of Plants. Current Research in Archaeobotany. Proceedings of the 12th IWGP Symposium, Sheffield 2001

Edited Book (Herausgeber eines eigenständigen Buches)

ID 1090578

Editor(s) Jacomet, Stefanie; Jones, Glynis; Charles, Michael; Bittmann, Felix

Editor(s) at UniBasel Jacomet, Stefanie ;

Year 2002

Title Archaeology of Plants. Current Research in Archaeobotany. Proceedings of the 12th IWGP Symposium, Sheffield 2001

Publisher Springer

Place of publication Heidelberg

ISSN/ISBN 0939-6314 ; 1617-6278

Series title Vegetation History and Archaeobotany

Volume 11

Number 1-2

Keywords plants; archaeology; archaeobotany

Volume 11 Vegetation History and Archaeobotany starts with a special double issue, the outcome of the 12th symposium of the international Workgroup for Palaeoethnobotany (IWGP) at Sheffield, 17th-24th of June 2001. This is the third time that the proceedings of the triannual meeting have been published in a special double issue of Vegetation History and Archaeobotany, the official organ of the IWGP. For this issue M Charles and G Jones act as additional guest editors. The IWGP meeting was attended by 123 participants from 25 countries and in all there were more than 70 presentations. The papers covered a wide geographical and chronological range and were presented under four themes although, inevitably, some papers cover more than one theme. All these themes are included in this volume: consumption: food, fodder and cuisine (Bakels, Dalnoki and Jacomet, Valamoti), collecting and cultivation (Kubiak-Martens, Bieniek, Fairbairn et al., Willcox, Wollstonecroft), historical archaeobotany (Motta, Jacomet et al., Robinson M, Zach, Benes et al., Vermeeren and van Haaster) and analytical archaeobotany (Butler, Charles et al., Rösch et al., Bogaard, Karg and Mdrkle, Kreuz and Schdfer). The symposium provided a forum for lively debate and the papers presented demonstrate how alive this area of research is at the beginning of the 21st century. The editors of this 'special' volume are grateful to the referees for their prompt work and diligence.

edoc-URL <http://edoc.unibas.ch/47358/>

Full Text on edoc No;