Project start 01.03.2017

Probable end 01.09.2022

Status Completed

The project centres on Cicero's /De domo sua/, one of the most elaborate and complex orations in the corpus of Roman oratory. Building on the manifold advances in Classical scholarship and combining traditional philological methods with Cultural Studies, it aims at providing a comprehensive state-of-the-art commentary on De domo sua that enables today's readers to access and appreciate a notoriously difficult but central text from Roman antiquity. Thus, it lays the groundwork for research on the hitherto underappreciated corpus of Cicero's /Post reditum/ speeches.
