

Universität
Basel

Research Project

Connecting – Editing – Programming – Learning (CEPL): sowing the seeds for joint teaching and research in digital papyrology, philology and ancient history in the European Campus

Third-party funded project

Project title Connecting – Editing – Programming – Learning (CEPL): sowing the seeds for joint teaching and research in digital papyrology, philology and ancient history in the European Campus

Principal Investigator(s) Huebner, Sabine ;

Organisation / Research unit

Departement Altertumswissenschaften / Alte Geschichte (Huebner)

Department

Project Website <https://www.eucor-uni.org/de/seed-money/laufende-projekte/connecting-editing-programming-learning-cepl-sowing-the-seeds-for-joint-teaching-and-research-in-digital-papyrology-philology-and-ancient-history-in-the-european-camp/>

Project start 01.08.2019

Probable end 31.07.2020

Status Completed

The project in the field of Classical Antiquity is under the direction of the University of Freiburg and is being implemented in collaboration with the Universities of Basel and Strasbourg. Students are introduced to reading, editing and publishing of Greek papyri online, a considerable number of which can be found in the manuscript collections of the three universities. The aim is joint teaching development in the fields of papyrology (focus in Strasbourg), ancient history (focus in Freiburg), and digitization of historical manuscripts (focus in Basel), eventually contributing to the existing trinational master's programme in the field of ancient studies. The project is supported by Eucor – The European Campus in the "Teaching" category of the Seed Money scheme.

Financed by

Public Administration

Add publication

Add documents

Specify cooperation partners